

Simone Yvette (Halloran) is a Visual and Digital Artist, Graphic Designer, and Professional Photographer residing on Kangaroo Island, Australia. She is currently employed as a Graphic Designer for local newspaper, The Islander.

Simone attained a Bachelor of Visual Arts in 1997, in which she specialised in Photography, Film-Making, Painting, Textiles, Sculpture, and Print-Making.

After living on the island as a teen, and living in Adelaide for just over a decade, she is now back - happily living amongst an abundance of nature once again, and it has inspired her to re-discover the world of art and creativeness.

Her preferred mediums are: photography, painting (oils and acrylic on canvas and panel), drawing and sketching (pencil and pen/ink), photo-collages and mixed media, textiles, and she will use any other visual art medium that she requires to express her artistic vision. Her passion is Digital Art: digital painting, photo-manipulation, vector and vixel work (which are fresh, new, and exciting art mediums that are sweeping the world). She also likes to dabble in creating hand-crafting beaded, macramé jewellery inspired by nature. Her work can never be categorised as one style or one subject, but Simone's work is definitely unique and instantly recognisable, through her love of colour, vibrancy, and visual patterns and textures.

Simone has exhibited extensively on the island over the last 5 years, at various local venues; The Lion Art Centre, Carclew Youth Art Centre, Henley Beach Town Hall, various cafes and restaurants and spaces, and the Premier Art Gallery in Adelaide; and in galleries in New York, Hong Kong, and Hungary overseas.

Simone's work can also be viewed and prints purchased through her artist profile on deviantART: www.simoneyvette.deviantart.com.
